

Contents

Article	Author(s)	Issue
How to use this resource		1
Analysis
When should learning needs analysis be carried out?	Garry Platt	1
Reflective practice	Louise Tamblin and Pat Ward	3
Using appraisal systems for learning needs analysis	Garry Platt	4
Training needs analysis methods	Louise Tamblin	8
Using questionnaires to identify learning needs	Garry Platt	8
Creating high-value learning that supports business needs	Jenny Summerfield and Caro Kingsnorth	9
Design
Ripples on a pond: a model of learning	Phil Race	1
Work-based action learning – guidelines for facilitators	Dr Charles Margerison	1
Instructional design – an overview	David Skinner	2
Choosing presentation – the method of King George	Kevin Cherry	2
Writing training objectives using SMART	Clare Forrest	3
Alternative solutions to a training course	Andrew Rea	3
Preparing the outline design	David Skinner	4
Learning styles and approaches to design	David Cotton	5
Training teams to learn	David Clutterbuck	5
The 4MAT model of learning	Jill Griffiths	6
How to sequence and pace information for individual learners	David Skinner	6
Multiple intelligences: finding the L spot	Kevin Cherry	7
Simulation – making learning real	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	8
Checking the quality of your learning design	Kimberley Hare	9
Accelerated learning	Louise Tamblin	9
Motivating learners to learn	David Cotton	9
How to create a well-designed learning event	Kimberley Hare	10
Competency frameworks: an introduction	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	10
Designing a competency framework	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	10
Using the Internet to aid design	Andrew Rea	10
Launching and using competency frameworks	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	11
Kolb's learning cycle	Clare Forrest	12
Choosing and using resources for your session	Stella Collins	12
Delivery
Facilitating team events	Sarah Cook	1
Transactional analysis in the classroom	Julie Hay	1
Trust and the trainer	Larry Reynolds	2

Article	Author(s)	Issue
Creating a great state for learning: focus – all learning is state dependent	Kimberley Hare	2
Giving high-value feedback: a guide for trainers	Jenny Summerfield	2
Creating a great state for learning: physiology and the learning environment	Kimberley Hare	3
Role play: a powerful tool for developing interpersonal skills	Michael Maynard and Andrew Leigh	3
Building rapport: how to get the participants on your side	Larry Reynolds	4
How to prepare and use PowerPoint®	Stella Collins	4
Storytelling: how to enrich the learning experience	Sue Lickorish	4
Using emotions to make the learning stick	Stella Collins	5
Feedback: your most challenging situations	Jenny Summerfield	5
Music and learning	Kimberley Hare and James Smallwood	6
Handouts: how to make them work for you	Phil Race	6
Coaching	Julie Hay	7
Facilitating a leadership exercise	Larry Reynolds	7
Coping with difficult participants	Michael Maynard	7
Storytelling in NLP and NLP in storytelling	Sue Lickorish	7
Mentoring	Julie Hay	8
Coping with the unexpected	Barbara Buffton	8
The craft of the storyteller	Sue Lickorish	9
The power of metaphors in training	Wendy Sullivan	9
Making training memorable	David Cotton	10
Memory techniques for trainers	David Cotton	11
Creative facilitation: power up your presence	Anthony Landale	11
Supervision	Julie Hay	11
Getting the best out of coaching	Rob Cram	11
Transferring learning into the workplace	Richard Nugent	12
Helping people overcome resistance to change	Godfrey Owen	12
Using icebreakers	Andrew Rea	12

Evaluation

Evaluating soft skills	Andrew Leigh and Michael Maynard	1
Calculating the return on training investment	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	5
Evaluating action learning	Richard Hale	6
Immediate reaction questionnaires	David Skinner	11

Assessment

Assessing knowledge: using written tests	Pat Ward and Louise Tamblin	2
Assessing attitudes	Louise Tamblin and Pat Ward	3
Assessing skills	Pat Ward and Louise Tamblin	4
Assessing effectiveness	Pat Ward and Louise Tamblin	5
Computer-based assessments	Pat Ward and Louise Tamblin	6
Measuring learning during training	Andrew Rea	8
Assessment and development centres	Julie Hay	10
Self-assessment: how to deepen trainees' learning	Phil Race	12

Contents

Article	Author(s)	Issue
Analysis
Analysing group behaviour	Julie Hay	13
Identifying performance gaps	David Skinner	13
NLP techniques for Training Needs Analysis and design	Barbara Buffton	14
Personal Development Plans: how to use them effectively	Rob Funning	15
Objective testing	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	16
The training needs interview	Andrew Rea	17
Understanding organisational culture	Sarah Cook	18
Managing culture change	Philip Atkinson	20
Clarifying learning goals	Terry Gillen	20
Behavioural analysis in training	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	23
Guiding managers in Training Needs Analysis	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	24
Design
Falling with style – approaches to risk in development events	Kevin Cherry	13
Self Managed Learning	Ian Cunningham	16
Learning as a whole person: humanistic principles in training design	Susan Iacovou	16
The three circles model of leadership and its value for trainers	John Adair	17
Thinking inside the box: behaviourist principles in training design	Susan Iacovou	17
What do you think? Cognitive principles in training design	Susan Iacovou	18
Training in leadership	Larry Reynolds	18
Even if it ain't broke – fix it!	Eirian Lewis	19
Using creative techniques to add value to your training	John Brooker	20
Designs on appraisal	Clare Forrest	20
Psychological contracting	Philip Atkinson	21
Training in problem solving	David Cotton	21
Group dynamics and training design	Susan Iacovou	21
Creating the physical environment for thinking	Julia Miller and Fiona Beddoes-Jones	21
Designing learning strategies to be multisensory	Philip Atkinson	22
How thinking styles affect learning	Fiona Beddoes-Jones	22
Using Honey and Mumford's Learning Styles in your training	Peter Honey	22
Team theory and group dynamics	Fiona Beddoes-Jones	23
Training in soft skills	David Cotton	23
Preparing instructional objectives	Howard Hills	23
Setting up portable workshops	Michael Maynard	24

Article	Author(s)	Issue
Delivery
Closing your training session	Kimberley Hare	13
Facilitating a creative problem-solving session	John Brooker	14
Dramatic success: using theatre techniques to transform performance	Andrew Leigh and Michael Maynard	14
Using overhead projectors effectively	David Skinner	14
Avoid being the leopard's lunch	John Brooker	15
Achieving your best state for training	Alastair Olby	15
Developing managers as leaders	Alison Paterson	15
Write that case study!	Rod Storey	16
Managing your mindset	Jenny Summerfield	16
Let's get PERSONAL: using Emotional Intelligence in your training	Alan Mortiboys	17
Using demonstration in training	Larry Reynolds	17
Facilitating a negotiation exercise or role-play	Rod Storey	17
Ten ways to really engage your group	Caro Kingsnorth and Jenny Summerfield	18
Making learning active	Richard Nugent	18
Using energisers to enhance your workshops	John Brooker	19
Language, gesture and learning	David Cotton	19
Putting va-va-voom into presentations	Terry Gillen	19
Facilitating games and simulations	David Jaques	19
Using counselling skills to aid learning	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	19
It's good to listen	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	20
Winging it ... with confidence	Clive Lewis	20
Practical debriefing	Roger Greenaway	21
Facilitating a change exercise	Julie Hay	21
Using flipcharts effectively	Ian Favell	22
Facilitating a team-working exercise	Julie Hay	22
Broadcasting your MESSAGE with Accelerated Training	Lex McKee	22
Create an impact using the physical environment	Stella Collins	23
Facilitation skills	David Cotton	24
What's your name again?	Di Kamp	24
A nutritional survival guide for trainers	Sandra Leyland Williams	24
Evaluation
A model of evaluation	Godfrey Owen	14
Soft skills or hard cash?	Jenny Summerfield and Caro Kingsnorth	15
Using Repertory Grid to evaluate training	Kimberley Hare	16
Evaluating training	Fiona Beddoes-Jones	24
Assessment
Assessment centre roles: the role-player and the facilitator	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	13
Peer assessment: getting trainees to learn from each other	Phil Race	13
Assessment centre roles: the assessor	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	14
Reality in assessment centre design	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	15
Making feedback work in assessment	David Cleeton-Watkins	18
The people side of feedback	David Cleeton-Watkins	23

Contents

Article	Author(s)	Issue
Analysis
Analysing performance problems	Howard Hills	26
Meeting the business need	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	26
Goal analysis	Howard Hills	27
Using technology to analyse data gathered	Theresa Dorrans	30
Root cause analysis	Martin Schmalenbach	31
Analysing training costs	Martin Schmalenbach	35
Design
We're going on a journey	Liz Bourne	25
In groups of three – choosing exercises and activities	Di Kamp	26
Product training and how to bring it to life	Paul Tizzard	26
What is this programme for?	Di Kamp	27
The lean thinking approach: building the customer into your development programme	Eirian Lewis and Paul McCoy	27
The value of visual thinking – visual-spatial intelligence in action	Lex McKee	27
What not to train	Howard Hills	28
Testing for trainability	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	28
Psychological types in training and development	Lex McKee	29
Project management for training	Howard Hills	30
Co-facilitating	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	30
Tools of project management	Howard Hills	31
Short cuts that add value	Andrew Rea	31
A user's guide to the brain and learning	David Cotton	32
Card-sort exercises	Andrew Rea	32
Project management: what to do in the beginning	Martin Schmalenbach	32
The Enneagram: a motivational model for understanding and transformation	Thomas Hillas	33
Part task training	Howard Hills	33
White-water navigators use Neuro Linguistic Programming to navigate change	Colin Reeve	33
Focus and energy: making learning memorable	Philip Atkinson and Ann Atkinson	34
Taking your horses to water and getting them to drink	Liz Bourne	35
Personal motivation – le plat du jour	Douglas Miller	35
Objective course design	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	36
Assessing against desired competencies and behaviours	Andrea Moffat	36
The value of values	Martin Schmalenbach	36

Article	Author(s)	Issue
Delivery
Thinking through co-training	Fiona Beddoes-Jones	25
The Graveyard Slot: rethinking postprandial training	David Cotton	25
Mapping your mind – visually intelligent thinking tools	Lex McKee	25
Using participants' metaphors for personal development and change	Wendy Sullivan	25
You've been framed!	Jacqui Dove	26
A nutritional survival guide for delegates	Sandra Leyland Williams	26
Levels of learning	Fiona Beddoes-Jones	28
Facilitating a problem-solving exercise	Julie Hay	28
Reviewing the learning	Di Kamp	28
The art and science of discussion leading	Ann Atkinson	29
Setting up and running exercises and activities	Barbara Buffton	29
Meta-learning experiences – what more did you learn?	Di Kamp	29
Train the trainer – basic	Fiona Beddoes-Jones	30
Setting the right tone	Di Kamp	30
Use the four universal motivators	Ralph Brown	31
Trainer styles	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	31
With the body in mind: the impact of physiology on learning	Lex McKee	31
Reviewing exercises and activities	Stella Collins	32
A project implementation review	Howard Hills	32
The difficult encounter	Barry Johnson and Shirley Harrington	32
Training for transfer	Roger Greenaway	33
The art and science of storytelling	Andrea Moffat	33
Using improvisation for training	John Brooker	34
Effective learning	Ralph Brown	34
Media selection	Howard Hills	34
Entrainment: the hidden rhythm in training	Lex McKee	34
Content-free learning facilitation	Barry Johnson and Mandy Geal	35
Train the trainer – advanced	Fiona Beddoes-Jones	35
Feedback and FAME	Howard Hills	35
Velcro® – the forgotten technology	Howard Hills	36
Empowering through language	Lex McKee	36
Committing to action	Roger Pattison	36

Evaluation
Training evaluation – what's it all about?	Martin Schmalenbach	25
How to evaluate training sessions	Sarah Cook	27
Selecting objective data for evaluation	Martin Schmalenbach	27
Selecting an evaluation method or model	Martin Schmalenbach	28
What kind of trainer are you?	Fiona Beddoes-Jones	29
Analysing evaluation data	Martin Schmalenbach	29
Evaluating and analysing processes	Martin Schmalenbach	30
Building an evaluation strategy	Martin Schmalenbach	33
Evaluating training impact quickly: the Success Case Method	Martin Schmalenbach	34